Front-end Developer

I'm Mobin, a 21-year-old self-taught front-end developer passionate about continuous learning. My commitment to growth drives me to acquire and apply new skills consistently.

PROJECTS

Personal Portfolio

Crafted with pure CSS, React, and streamlined with Vite as the bundler, my portfolio is a dynamic showcase of my skills. This project demonstrates my proficiency in frontend development, creating a responsive and visually engaging platform to highlight my work and abilities.

INTERESTS

Front-end Development

Working as a front-end developer has always been my interest. I believe in this ecosystem; there is no limit to being creative. I read the news about this topic every day and love to get updates.

Open-Source Community

I love being part of the open-source community! I enjoy working on projects where people come together to solve real-world problems. The teamwork and shared spirit in open source keep me motivated as I learn and contribute.

Blockchain

Excited about the amazing change blockchain can bring, even though I haven't worked with it directly. I'm eager to learn about its uses and be part of creative projects because I'm curious and passionate.

Artificial Intelligent

I'm really into AI because it's awesome how you can create things that learn and grow, making life easier. It's so exciting to see how these systems can help us out. For me, AI is more than just a tech thing – it's a way to simplify life, and that's why it's one of my interests.
